

Who will you invite?

the gathering
IRELAND 2013

thegatheringireland.com

Your school can be part of it: write your letter!

Next year, lots of people will be coming over for The Gathering Ireland 2013: an ENORMOUS celebration of Ireland and its people. The more people that join in, the more fun it will be!

That's why we want you to help. All you have to do is write a letter or an email to someone you know in a different country and ask them to come (remember to ask your parents before you send it). It could be your friend, your auntie, your pen pal... anyone you like. Make them excited! Think of all the things you'd like to show them in your town. Tell them about everything there is to see and do.

Your family can join in too!

Your family can ask people they know to come too. There will be lots of special Gatherings to attend. Or your family can make your own Gathering! You'll find ideas and help on our website thegatheringireland.com. You can even upload your Gathering onto our website so that other people can find out about it.

