Section B

Clustering of Schools

In certain areas it may be that schools would wish to cluster with other schools in their locality and use the grant money received by all those schools to employ a person or persons who could undertake secretarial, caretaking or other ancillary work on behalf of all schools in the cluster.

The Board of Management of schools who wish to cluster with other schools as outlined above should note the following in relation to ancillary staff working in a number of different schools:

- There must be individual contracts for each school that they are employed in as the Board of Management of each individual school will be the employer.
- There must be individual payslips for each employment.
- The ancillary staff should be paid out of the individual schools bank account. Schools must not share bank accounts in order to pay shared staff.
